Proper Citation: Zeiss: AxioVision Imaging System (RRID:SCR_002677)

Description: Digital image processing system where microscope settings and processing steps may be adjusted in single user interface. Can acquire images from variety of cameras. Includes software package for capturing, archiving and preparing images for publication. Allows users to visualize and present images in several dimensions. Functionality of imaging toolbox expands constantly with wide range of different modules that are tailored to specific applications or microscope accessories.

Abbreviations: AxioVision

Synonyms: AxioVision, AxioVision Imaging System, AxioVision- Microscope Software

Resource Type: data processing software, image processing software, instrument resource, software application, software resource

Keywords: microscopy, imaging, capturing image, archiving image, preparing image, digital image processing, microscope accessory, Zeiss

Resource Name: Zeiss: AxioVision Imaging System

Resource ID: SCR_002677

Alternate IDs: SciRes_000111, SCR_018376
