Description: Tool for helping people identify and locate online repositories of research data. Users and bibliographers create and curate records that describe data repositories that users can search. * What repositories are appropriate for a researcher to submit his or her data to? * How do users find appropriate data repositories and discover datasets that meet their needs? * How can librarians help patrons locate and integrate data into their research or learning? Databib attempts to address these needs for the research community, including: * data users * data producers * publishers and professional societies * librarians * research funding agencies Are you familiar with a data repository that isn't included in Databib? Please consider submitting a new record. You can suggest a repository for us to catalog by simply entering its title, URL, authority, and a subject for it... and we'll do the rest!
