Proper Citation: New York University Grossman School of Medicine Applied Bioinformatics Laboratories Facility (RRID:SCR_019178)

Description: Core provides computational analysis for high throughput genomic data, including but not limited to, next generation sequencing data. Our mission is to accelerate scientific discoveries by guiding experimental design, performing robust data quality assessment, and carrying out comprehensive computational analyses. Registration to iLab required.

Synonyms: Applied Bioinformatics Laboratories

Resource Type: access service resource, service resource, core facility

Keywords: USEDit, next generation sequencing data, genomic data, data quality assessment, computational analyses, ABRF, ABRF

Funding: NCI P30CA016087;
