Proper Citation: Semi-Manual Alignment to Reference Templates (RRID:SCR_019265)

Description: Software tool that extends WholeBrain framework in R for segmenting and registering experimental images to Allen Mouse Common Coordinate Framework (CCF). Streamlines processing of large volumetric LSFM datasets and solves issues with non-uniform morphing across anterior-posterior axis with interactive "choice game." Accounts for duplicate cell counts in adjacent z images and presents new ways to easily parse apart and interactively visualize final mapped datasets.

Abbreviations: SMART

Resource Type: data processing software, software application, segmentation software, software resource, image analysis software

Defining Citation: DOI:10.1101/727529

Keywords: Segmenting experimental images, registering experimental images, Allen Mouse Common Coordinate Framework, data processing, experimental images

Funding:

Availability: Free, Available for download, Freely available
