Proper Citation: Mammalian Adipose Tissue Knowledge Portal (RRID:SCR_028031)

Description: Open community portal for multi-species mammalian adipose biology. Aggregates data for adipose tissues and cell types, genes active within them, and their relationship to human phenotypes. Plans to offer reproducible analysis pipelines, wet lab and computational protocols, datasets, analyses, and visualizations for epigenomic, transcriptomic, proteomic, metabolomic, and imaging data. Designed to aggregate and harmonize multi-species (human and mouse) transcriptomic, genetic, and epigenomic data. Enables to explore adipose biology, cell-type-specific gene expression, and metabolic disease mechanisms through interactive tools like Single Cell Browsers.

Abbreviations: MATKP

Resource Type: data access protocol, data or information resource, web service, knowledge resource, portal, topical portal, software resource

Keywords: fat, multi-species mammalian adipose, adipose tissues, cell types, genes, relationship to human phenotypes,
