Proper Citation: International Gene Trap Consortium Pathways (RRID:SCR_013372)

Description: IGTC uses GenMapp to provide maps of public gene trap data from members of the International Gene Trap Consortium (IGTC) to map sets of biological pathways and gene groupings. Users can browse the pathway diagrams and view which genes within the pathway have been trapped. Genes with gene trap insertions are colored on the pathway diagram depending upon the number of traps of the gene. Clicking on a gene of interest will bring up a backpage of annotation data and detailed information about the gene trap cell lines.
