Description: A patient resource to provide Parkinson's disease patients and their families with information and resources to help understand and manage Parkinson's disease and improve the quality of life for both patient and caregiver, while increasing public awareness about the disease. The website also connects users with resources, such as therapy groups, physical exercise classes, and patient care resources. It gives users access to mailing lists, support group information, and other Parkinson's-related event information for Parkinson's patients and their families. Based at Stanford University Medical Center, it is a partnership between the American Parkinson Disease Association, Inc. and Stanford University.
