Description: A data analysis software developed to simplify and record data from fluorescent related assays such as Western Blots, EMSAs, and Western Assays. This software will consolidate all of the resulting data into one easy-to-track image, and thus removes the need for multiple exposures, as well as standardizing the resulting fluorescent bands without image saturation, blowout, or removed sensitivity. Odyssey CLx is capable of scanning multiple mini-blots, microplates, or slides at the same time.
